

CUSTOMER AGREEMENT

The following is a legally binding agreement (the "Agreement") between you and Securities America, Inc. ("SAI") with regard to your account, whether it is a brokerage or non-brokerage account, and whether or not you and your account receive advisory services under a separate agreement. Please review these Terms and Conditions as they contain important information regarding the Agreement and your risks and responsibilities. Do not return it with your account application and keep it with your records.

The type of account you are opening is set forth on the account application executed contemporaneously with the receipt of the Agreement.

Parties to the Agreement

In this document, "us," "we," and "our" refers to SAI, a Financial Industry Regulatory Authority ("FINRA") member firm and Introducing Broker/Dealer and applies to all activities in any accounts opened with us. References to the "Clearing Firm" apply to National Financial Services LLC ("NFS") which is a New York Stock Exchange member firm (collectively the "Parties"). The Clearing Firm has been engaged to provide account custody and clearing services for brokerage accounts opened through SAI. The terms "account owner," "you," and "your" refer to the owner(s) indicated on the account application or such individuals added as account owners. For joint accounts, these terms refer to all owners, collectively and individually. For accounts owned by entities, such as trust or business accounts, these terms refer both to the entity and to all persons authorized to transact business on behalf of the entity.

"Financial Professional" refers to the person or persons who have been selected by you to service your account. Such services may include making insurance or investment related recommendations or accepting orders on your behalf; providing you with necessary documents and information; as well as updating or changing our records to reflect your current financial or personal situation. Your Financial Professional may be duly licensed and registered with SAI. In some instances, your Financial Professional may not be registered with SAI but will be an investment advisor representative of an SEC Registered Investment Advisor firm affiliated with SAI ("RIA"); and in some cases, your Financial Professional may be registered with SAI and affiliated with our RIA firm. If your Financial Professional is an investment advisor representative of our RIA, any reference to "us," "we," and "our" refers to SAI and our RIA, as may be applicable; and, the term "Parties" includes both SAI and our RIA. The services your Financial Professional provides to you under this Agreement may vary based on his or her affiliation with SAI and/or our RIA.

Brokerage account activities are processed and cleared through the Clearing Firm and customer assets are held by the Clearing Firm. Non-Brokerage activities are processed through accounts opened and maintained directly with various product sponsors (such as Mutual Funds and separate accounts of Insurance Companies) ("Product Sponsor") and customer assets are held at the Product Sponsor.

Notices

SAI is a FINRA member firm and is registered with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC") and the Municipal Securities Rulemaking Board ("MSRB"). FINRA runs a public disclosure program known as BrokerCheck that provides information about the background and experience of brokerage firms and their registered persons. An investor brochure that includes information about the BrokerCheck Program is available by calling the BrokerCheck Program Hotline at (800) 289-9999 or by accessing the BrokerCheck website at <http://brokercheck.finra.org>. In addition, an investor brochure that describes the protections that may be provided by MSRB rules and how to file a complaint with the appropriate regulatory authority is posted on the MSRB website at <http://msrb.org>. Your Financial Professional will provide disclosure information about us through the Customer Relationship Summary (Form CRS). Clients with a commission relationship, to which we are obligated by Regulation Best Interest to provide additional disclosure, will receive a copy of our BD Firm Brochure while clients with an advisory relationship with RIA's will receive a copy of the RIA's Form ADV Part 2A or wrap fee brochure.

Financial Professionals affiliated with our RIA will provide disclosure information about himself or herself in a Form ADV Part 2B. Other information about our RIA is available at <http://SEC.gov>.

As set forth under Monitoring your Account, you are responsible for monitoring the activities of your Financial Professional and you should contact us at the attention of our Compliance Department whenever any activities are unauthorized or contrary to your express directions. You may contact us using the following address and telephone number.

The following paragraphs apply to all activities in a brokerage or non-brokerage account. When you see reference to the activities of a Clearing Firm, it applies to activities in brokerage accounts.

COMMITMENTS BETWEEN YOU AND THE PARTIES

Our Commitments to You

When we accept your account application, we are agreeing to serve as your broker and to maintain an account for you. We agree, subject to industry regulations and our internal procedures that upon acceptance of an authorized order, we will buy, sell, or otherwise dispose of securities for you according to your instructions. We and the Clearing Firm agree to provide various services and features, as described in this Agreement.

Custody is provided by the Clearing Firm. We are not a custodian and therefore cannot hold your securities, stock powers, monies or any other personal or real property in which you may have an interest.

Neither we as a company nor the Clearing Firm offer any tax, legal or accounting advice regarding the suitability or profitability of a security or investment. You should consult your own tax advisor regarding tax consequences with respect to transactions in or for your account. In addition, unless otherwise disclosed as required by law or regulation, SAI and those Financial Professionals registered with SAI only and not with an RIA are not fiduciaries as that term is defined under the Employee Retirement Income Securities Act of 1974 (ERISA), as amended, and other statutory and regulatory requirements applicable to the retirement plans or retirement accounts.

Your Financial Professional may be an investment advisor representative of our RIA and/or may also hold industry or association designations such as Certified Financial Planner (CFP). However, when your Financial Professional is acting solely in his/her capacity as a registered representative, of SAI, and has not been engaged by you in a financial planning process or under an advisory agreement in the capacity of an investment advisor representative of an RIA, any recommendations will be made in accordance with FINRA suitability or SEC best interest standards, as applicable, and not in the capacity as an investment advisory fiduciary, CFP, or other standard.

Statements

For Brokerage accounts, the Clearing Firm will send to the address of record a statement of your account:

- every calendar quarter, at a minimum; or
- for any month when you have trading or cash management activity.

Your brokerage account statements will show all activity in your account for the stated period, including securities transactions, cash and margin balances, credits and debits to your core account, and all fees paid directly from your account.

The Clearing Firm will also send to you a confirmation for every securities transaction in your account. The only exceptions are automatic investments, automatic withdrawals, dividend reinvestments, transfers to other accounts, and transactions that involve only your core account; for these activities, your regular account statement serves in place of a confirmation. For Non-Brokerage accounts, statements showing all activity and confirmations for every securities transaction will be sent to you by the Product Sponsor.

Reports of executions of orders and statements of your account shall be conclusive if not objected to in writing within five (5) days and ten (10) days, respectively, after transmitted to you by mail or otherwise.

Your Commitments to the Parties

When you sign an account application, you agree to the following Commitments to the Parties, many of which are spelled out more completely elsewhere in this Agreement:

- To accept full responsibility for the content and accuracy of all authorized instructions placed on your account, and for all results and consequences of these instructions; this includes all investment decisions and trading orders, and all instructions placed by you or any other person you authorize including your Financial Professional.
- Understand that electronic communications sent via email are not considered private. Messages sent electronically may be intercepted or accessed by unauthorized or unintended parties. No representation or warranty is made or given that any communications sent to us or your Financial Professional(s) via email will be secure. For your protection, in certain circumstances we may not act on instructions received via email without first confirming the validity of the request. This means that certain requests may be delayed while we validate the authenticity of the request.
- If you have not checked the box for Affiliations, you represent and warrant that you are not affiliated with or employed by a stock exchange or a broker/dealer or you are not a control person or affiliate of a public company under SEC Rule 144 (such as a director, 10% shareholder, or a policy-making officer), or an immediate family or household member of such a person
- To carefully review all trade confirmations and account statements and report discrepancies immediately as more fully explained later in this Agreement under Monitoring your Account.
- To pay all fees, charges, and expenses incurred in your account. The Parties may change their fees and commissions at any time subject to applicable legal requirements. SAI reserves the right to vary commissions and other charges among clients in connection with special offers, combinations of services, or in other circumstances. The Parties may pay all or a portion of the revenues or marketing allowance fees derived from certain transactions in your account, or from servicing your account, to third parties including your Financial Professional.
- To let us, your Financial Professional, or the Clearing Firm monitor and/or record any phone conversations with you.
- To let us, your Financial Professional, or the Clearing Firm verify the information you provide and obtain credit reports and other credit-related information about you at any time, such as payment and employment information (whether for margin or any other purpose).
- For the name and address of any credit reporting agency from whom we or the Clearing Firm has obtained information about you, send a written request to us or the card issuer, as applicable.
- To let us, our RIA or the Clearing Firm share with third parties any information you provide, but only as required by law or as permitted by our, our RIA's and/or the Clearing Firm's privacy policy(ies) respectively.
- To monitor the activities of any Financial Professional serving your account and contact us with regard to any unauthorized activities or activities that are contrary to your expressed instructions. You understand that you need to contact us if you have any concerns regarding your account. Your failure to provide us with timely notice can be viewed by us as authorization or ratification of such activities for which you are responsible.
- To refuse to lend or borrow monies or securities from your Financial Professional or any other person associated with the Parties.
- To refuse to allow your Financial Professional or any other person(s) associated with the Parties to serve as trustee, guardian, fiduciary, or co-owner for your account unless you are an immediate family member of the Financial Professional (i.e. spouse, parent, child or other person living in the Financial Professional's household).
- To refuse to purchase or sell securities in order to receive a pending or announced dividend as the value of the security will usually decline by the amount of the dividend.
- To refuse to purchase or sell a security, insurance, or other product based upon the promise that you will receive a commission rebate, share in compensation due your Financial Professional, or for any other inducement such as a prize or gift.
- To resolve disputes concerning your relationship with us or the Clearing Firm (other than class actions) through arbitration rather than in a court of law. See "PRE-DISPUTE ARBITRATION CLAUSE" on the last page of this Agreement.
- To understand that if the core account investment vehicle included in your brokerage account is a money market mutual fund, the Clearing Firm, SAI or your Financial Professional will provide the prospectus for that fund describing the product in detail including a description of the fund, the fund's fees and charges and the operation of the fund. You represent that you have read this Customer Agreement and the prospectus and understand, authorize and consent to the Clearing Firm administering your core account investment vehicle according to the terms and conditions of those documents.
- To understand that if the core account investment vehicle included in your brokerage account is an Insured Cash Account Program ("Program") or Bank Deposit Sweep Program ("BDSP") the Clearing Firm will provide to you and/or your Financial Professional will make available to you, as applicable, the Program or BDSP Disclosure Document describing the product in detail including;
 - > The description of the Program or BDSP
 - > The location where you can view a list of eligible banks (each a "bank" or "Program Bank") in which deposits will be made for the Program or BDSP and the applicable interest rate.
- To understand that if your core account investment vehicle included in your brokerage account is the Program or BDSP, you represent that you have read this Customer Agreement and the applicable Program or BDSP Disclosure Document and understand, authorize and consent to the Clearing Firm administering your core account investment vehicle according to the terms and conditions of those documents.
- To understand that different protections and terms apply to investments in shares of a mutual fund and deposits of funds into the Program or BDSP; including differences between SIPC protection and FDIC insurance.
- To obtain, read and be bound by the prospectus or Disclosure Document, as applicable, for any money market mutual fund or FDIC-insured Program or BDSP into which you deposit, purchase or exchange.
- To determine if any funds transferred to an account at a bank in the Program or BDSP and any separate bank accounts held at that same bank will affect FDIC insurance coverage for all your funds held at that bank.
- If you have the Program or BDSP as your core account investment vehicle, to authorize the withdrawal of cash from the Program or BDSP to satisfy any and all debits against your brokerage account.
- If you have a money market mutual fund as your core account investment vehicle, to authorize the liquidation of shares to satisfy any and all debits against your brokerage account.
- To understand that, as it relates to brokerage accounts, we or the Clearing Firm can change the core account investment vehicle(s) available for your brokerage account or amend the terms and conditions relating to the use of such core account investment vehicle at any time upon notice to you.
- To understand that whenever you purchase or exchange any mutual fund or variable annuity/life product, you are responsible for obtaining and reading that fund's prospectus.

- To refuse to use cash or cash equivalents to purchase securities or to make a deposit to your account, and to use traceable instruments such as personal checks, wires or Electronic Funds Transfer (EFT).
- To refuse to obtain credit or otherwise borrow money from your Financial Professional or other third party to purchase securities except through a properly approved margin account.
- To refuse to enter into any other personal business relationship with your Financial Professional, including but not limited to providing funds for any type of business activity that involves your Financial Professional or someone associated with your Financial Professional.
- To obtain from your Financial Professional current offering documents prior to purchasing an interest in any partnership, real estate investment trust, mutual fund, variable product, unit investment trust or new issue security.
- For each purchase of mutual fund shares, you agree to provide your Financial Professional with information regarding your current holdings within the same fund family, either individually or in related accounts, and to advise your Financial Professional at the time of each mutual fund purchase whether or not you have recently liquidated mutual fund shares within the same fund family or a different fund family. This information will enable us to provide you with any volume discounts (also known as “breakpoints”) to which you may be entitled.
- To make payment for purchases of securities or deposits for your account to the Clearing Firm or Product Sponsor. You should never make payment for the purchase of securities payable to SAI, our RIA or your Financial Professional.
- To notify us in writing any time there is a material change in your financial circumstances or investment objectives as set forth in your account application.
- If a check issued to you from your account remains uncashed and outstanding for at least six months, you authorize and instruct the Clearing Firm to cancel the check and return the underlying proceeds to you by depositing the proceeds into your account’s core position.
- You understand that upon the request of the issuers of any securities held in your account and in accordance with applicable rules and regulations, we will disclose your name to these issuers so that you might receive any important information regarding them, unless you do not consent to disclosure. If you do not consent to such disclosure, you agree to notify us in writing. (You may not be able to object to this disclosure for certain securities issued by Investment Companies that are registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940, or as required by law).
- You understand and agree that SAI and the Parties may amend this Agreement from time to time without prior notice to you, except as may be required by applicable law. The most current version of the Agreement is available online at www.securitiesamerica.com, from your Financial Professional, or by contacting SAI. You agree to be bound by the current and future terms of this Agreement, from the time you first use your account or sign your application, whichever happens first.

ACCOUNT REGISTRATION

You have selected the manner in which your account will be set up based on your personal requirements. You certify that the manner in which your account is titled reflects the ownership interest of the parties and is allowed under applicable state laws. We have no obligation to verify the legality of any registration under the probate, estate, or transfer laws of the state where this account is being opened or to determine which state laws govern the interpretation of the registration status of your account.

Joint Registration

With regard to accounts with joint owners, whether joint tenants or tenants in common, any obligations or liabilities resulting from one account owner’s actions are the responsibility of each account owner, both individually and jointly. We or the Clearing Firm may enforce this Agreement against all account owners or against any one of them individually.

Each owner of a joint account may act as if he or she were the sole owner of the account, with no further notice or approval necessary from other joint owners. For example, a joint owner can — in his or her own name — write checks, buy and sell securities, withdraw or transfer assets, borrow against the account (such as through short sales or margin), arrange for account statements to be sent only to them, or change the account’s features and services (although no account owner may remove another’s name from the account without their authorization).

In addition, with joint accounts, the principle of “notice to one is notice to all” applies. We or the Clearing Firm are legally considered to have fulfilled our obligation to you and the account if we fulfill it with respect to just one account owner (for example, sending statements or other required communications to just one account owner).

The Parties are not obligated to question the purpose or propriety of any instruction of a joint account owner that appears to be authentic, or to let other owners know about any changes an owner has made to the account, unless we have received written notice to the contrary, from another account owner. The Parties reserve the right at any time and at their discretion to require the written consent of all account owners before acting on an instruction from one account owner.

In the event of death of any one of you, the survivor or survivors will notify us immediately. We may take such actions as we deem necessary, such as request additional documents, retain such portion and/or restrict transactions in the account to protect us against any claim, penalty or loss. The estate of any deceased account owner or any other living account owner shall be liable, jointly and severally, to us for any debt or loss in this account resulting from the completion of transactions initiated prior to our receipt of a written notice of such death or incurred in the liquidation of the account or the adjustment of the interest of the respective parties.

Laws covering joint or community property vary by state. You are responsible for verifying that the joint registration you choose is valid in your state. You may want to consult your legal counsel before establishing your account. Generally, for joint tenants with rights of survivorship and tenants by the entirety, upon the death of an account owner the entire interest in the account transfers to the surviving account owner(s). However, such transfer of interest is subject to the same terms and conditions set forth in the Agreement and does not release the decedent’s estate from the liability for amounts owed to the Parties. For tenants in common, a deceased account owner’s interest (which equals that of the other account owner(s) unless specified otherwise) goes to that deceased account owner’s legal representative. The interests in the account shall be determined as of the close of business on the date of death of the decedent (or on the next business day if the date of death is not a business day). Tenants in common are responsible for maintaining records of the percentages of ownership.

Custodial Registration

For accounts opened under the Uniform Gifts to Minors Act (UGMA) or Uniform Transfers to Minors Act (UTMA), you, the account owner, are the custodian with regard to the property transferred into the account. By opening this type of account, you agree that all property transferred into the account belongs to the minor and that you will only use such property for the minor’s benefit — even after such property has been removed from the account.

As custodian, it is your obligation to monitor the minor’s age and you agree to transfer the custodial property in the account to the minor or to the minor’s estate upon the earlier of: (i) the minor’s attainment of age of majority with respect to the custodial property in the account and as such age is defined by state law (also referred to as age of termination); or (ii) the minor’s death.

It is not our obligation to, nor do we, monitor the age of the minor for whose benefit an UGMA/UTMA account is established. However, if we should become aware that such person has reached the age of termination, we will attempt to notify you. If you have not taken appropriate action within sixty (60) days of receiving such notice, the account will be restricted to liquidating transactions and transfers out of the account and no new deposits or new investments would be allowed.

Tax Deferred Retirement Accounts

For tax deferred retirement accounts opened in the name of a Third Party Trustee or Custodian, for the benefit of an underlying retirement account plan or owner, by signing the account application, you, the third party trustee or custodian represent to us and the Clearing Firm that you are qualified to act in that capacity under applicable provisions of the IRC and you represent to us to the best of your knowledge and belief this account is a duly qualified tax-deferred retirement account in good standing at the date of execution and will be maintained as such during the time the retirement account remains open. You, the third party trustee or custodian agree to promptly notify us if you have submitted incorrect tax documentation (at the time of account opening), such as an IRS Form W-

9 or any substitute form, or if such tax documentation otherwise becomes invalid you agree to promptly submit corrected tax documentation to us. You, the third party trustee or custodian, agree you are responsible for (i) maintaining, at all times, the qualified tax-deferred retirement account status of this account, and (ii) all applicable federal and state tax reporting and withholding for such account, required annual valuation reports, issuance of appropriate payee statements and timely depositing of withheld taxes, and (iii) shall provide to us, if requested, proof that you have timely and correctly completed all required U.S. federal and state tax reporting and withholding for this account.

Plan Registration

The Plan trustee is responsible with regard to the administration of the retirement plan including its obligations to follow the governing plan document.

The Clearing Firm is not responsible for any tax filing on behalf of your plan or IRA. The plan trustee or IRA Custodian will be responsible for additional reporting, tax filing, and disclosures required on this account.

The Clearing Firm does not perform any disclosures and/or filings on behalf of the plan.

For plan accounts, note that the Clearing Firm in its capacity as a clearing firm may not be providing all the necessary information required for your plan's trustee to complete these additional filings and disclosures.

TRUSTED CONTACT INFORMATION

FINRA Rule 4512 requires that SAI make reasonable efforts to obtain the name of and contact information for a trusted contact person upon opening of a non-institutional account or when updating account information for an existing non-institutional account.

By providing trusted contact information you are authorizing SAI to contact the trusted contact person and disclose information about your account to address possible financial exploitation, to confirm the specifics of your current contact information, health status, or the identity of any legal guardian, executor, trustee or holder of a power of attorney or as otherwise permitted by FINRA Rule 2165.

Please note the following:

- The trusted contact person must be age 18 or older and may not be authorized to transact business on behalf of your account.
- SAI may elect to notify this individual that he or she was named as a trusted contact.
- When trusted contact information is provided, pursuant to FINRA Rule 2165, SAI must attempt to notify the trusted contact person if we have placed a temporary hold on a disbursement of funds or securities from your account due to concerns that financial exploitation is occurring, unless SAI reasonably believes the trusted contact person is engaged in the financial exploitation.

DISCLOSURES RELATED TO: INVESTMENT RISK, TRANSACTION CHARGES, REVENUE SHARING, POTENTIAL CONFLICTS OF INTEREST.

You understand that investment in securities involves risks and that many variables, including but not limited to market and economic fluctuations, may have a substantial negative effect on the value of your securities positions. Furthermore, you represent that you are willing to assume these risks and that you are in fact financially able to bear these risks. You also acknowledge and agree that you have an affirmative obligation to notify us in writing should there be material change in your investment objectives.

You understand that securities products purchased or sold through a SAI branch office located on a financial institution's premise (i.e., bank or credit union) are not insured by the FDIC, are not deposits or otherwise obligations of the financial institution, are subject to investment risk, including possible loss of principal invested, and are not insured by SIPC as to the loss of principal amounts invested. Further, you understand that in the event the financial institution is located on a military installation, the securities products are not being offered on behalf of the Federal Government, and the offer is not sanctioned, recommended or encouraged by the Federal Government.

Mutual Fund Purchases in a Brokerage Account. You acknowledge that when purchasing mutual fund investments in your Brokerage account (including no-load funds) that you may be assessed certain transaction, execution and confirmation charges which will be specified on the transaction confirmation. You further acknowledge and understand that mutual fund shares may be purchased directly from the mutual fund company without any sales charges on no-load funds, or any charges in excess of the amounts disclosed in the prospectus for mutual fund shares sold with a sales charge. You understand that the funds' Distribution and Service Plan, as allowed under SEC Rule 12b-1, permit the funds to pay fees to broker dealers with respect to the distribution of the funds' shares, and that we may receive such a fee as a result. Information concerning all fees and charges are also set forth in the funds' prospectus.

Sales Charges on Mutual Fund Purchases. As explained below, many mutual funds offer volume discounts to the front-end sales charge assessed on Class A shares at certain predetermined levels of investment, which are called "breakpoint discounts." In contrast, Class B and C shares usually do not carry any front-end sales charges. Instead, investors who purchase Class B or C shares pay asset-based sales charges, which may be higher or lower than the ongoing asset based charges associated with Class A shares. Investors that purchase Class B or C shares may also be required to pay a sales charge known as a contingent deferred sales charge when they sell their shares prior to the expiration of particular time periods (also referred to as surrender charges), depending upon the rules of the particular mutual fund. You also understand that SAI may share all or a portion of such fees with our Financial Professionals.

It may not be advisable for you to switch or move assets from one variable product or mutual fund to another if such transfer involves payment of an additional up-front or contingent sales charge or surrender charge. However, there may be circumstances in which it is reasonable to do so. Exchanges within the same mutual fund family may be available with no commission or sales charges and at reduced processing costs.

Breakpoint Discounts. Most mutual funds offer investors a variety of ways to qualify for breakpoint discounts on the sales charge associated with the purchase of Class A shares. In general, most mutual funds provide breakpoint discounts to investors who make large purchases at one time. The specific terms and conditions under which breakpoint discounts may become available are determined by mutual funds and can vary. Generally, an investor can procure a breakpoint discount through either a single purchase large enough to reach a breakpoint, or multiple purchases in a single mutual fund or any of the funds in a fund complex, the aggregate value of which is large enough to reach a breakpoint. An investor may reach breakpoint thresholds by aggregating transactions made by certain family members and transactions in certain other related accounts, or by aggregate purchases over time to meet applicable breakpoint thresholds through rights of accumulation or letter of intent. You agree to review the individual fund prospectus and Statement of Additional Information for detailed information on ways to reduce or eliminate the sales charge. You understand that you are responsible for informing your Financial Professional of all relevant facts, so that your Financial Professional may assist you in identifying and obtaining any reductions or waivers to which you may be entitled.

Charges and Fees for Services Performed. You understand your account may be assessed certain fees and charges for miscellaneous services performed, including but not limited to account transfer and termination fees, research fees, bank wire fees, inactivity fees, third party check fees and legal transfer fees. You understand that these fees may be changed from time to time and that you will receive notice of such change as required by regulation. You understand that should such fee assessment result in a negative balance in your account, we have the right to liquidate assets to cover such negative balance without notice to you. You understand that a current schedule of brokerage account fees and charges is available on our website at www.securitiesamerica.com under Investors/Investor information or from your Financial Professional upon request.

Transaction or Ticket Charges. Transaction or ticket charges may apply to securities sales, purchases and exchanges in your account in addition to sales charges, loads, concessions or other expenses that you may be responsible for depending on the type of product in question. The amounts charged vary for mutual funds, variable products, stocks, bonds and option transactions. Factors that determine transaction charges include size of purchase, type of transaction, mutual fund family, advisor, Financial Professional, variable product sponsor and processing method (on-line/phone/systematic). Full transaction charges may not apply to certain transactions associated with mutual fund and variable product sponsors participating in the Premier Funds program. Accordingly, the transaction charges incurred will vary. At your Financial Professional's discretion he/she may apply these transaction charges to the expenses that you pay for your securities transactions. For more information on these transaction charges or commissions, please review your confirmation or statement; ask your Financial Professional or visit our website www.securitiesamerica.com under Investors/Investor information.

Compensation and Reimbursement of Expenses to SAI and Financial Professional. SAI and your Financial Professional receive revenue on the products and services you purchase from several sources. These sources include fees and charges you pay and other arrangements we have in place with affiliated and non-affiliated entities including: sales charges; commissions; periodic fees; periodic expenses paid from product assets such as 12b-1 fees from mutual funds and the funds available in variable annuities; financial planning and advisory service fees; a portion of the organization and offering fees and expenses for REITs, limited partnerships and other non-public securities offerings.

SAI receives compensation from those mutual funds and variable product sponsors made available to you through your Financial Professional. This compensation may include:

- sales charges (sometimes called loads); and
- trailing commissions (including service fees known as 12b-1 payments).

As described below, we may also receive additional payments called revenue sharing payments and/or marketing allowances from certain Product Sponsors under special agreements with those firms. Specific details regarding the Premier Funds, Premier Partners Programs and Non-Publicly Traded Products are set forth below. Other revenue and marketing allowance payment programs involving certain Real Estate Investment Trusts (commonly referred to as REITs) also exist. SAI, at its sole discretion and as allowed by law, may share some or all of these additional payments with your Financial Professional.

Representatives of Product Sponsors, often referred to as "wholesalers", work with SAI and Financial Professionals to promote their products. Consistent with rules set out by FINRA and the SEC, these wholesalers and/or their firms may pay or make contributions to SAI for training or education of Financial Professionals. Product Sponsors may also make payments to SAI to promote the marketing of their products to clients which includes seminars for clients and potential clients. These firms may also invite Financial Professionals to due diligence or continuing education meetings regarding their products. From time to time SAI may also recognize certain Financial Professionals through promotional programs that include attendance at off-site training sessions that may be sponsored or co-sponsored by these Product Sponsors.

It is SAI policy not to promote any fund family or insurance carrier's products over another based solely on any additional payments or other considerations that might be received from the sale of their products. Sponsors of these products are generally granted equal access to Financial Professionals to promote their products, and Financial Professionals are encouraged to make recommendations to clients based on the clients' needs and objectives. However, receipt of such payments could create a greater incentive by your Financial Professional to recommend products that provide such payments. You are encouraged to talk with your Financial Professional about any fees or compensation they receive from the sale of investment products.

Financial Professionals may be incented to join and remain affiliated with Securities America through certain compensation arrangements which could include bonuses, enhanced pay-outs, forgivable loans and/or business transition loans. The receipt of such compensation may be considered to be a conflict of interest.

SAI may receive reimbursement from NFS, for all or a portion of any transfer of asset fees which customers could incur from other clearing providers upon the transfer of accounts to an SAI account carried by NFS. If SAI receives this type of reimbursement, SAI may retain all or a portion of such reimbursements or, at its discretion, may pass through all or a portion of such reimbursement to its clients and/or Representatives.

Premier Funds Program. SAI created the Premier Funds program for certain mutual funds and variable product sponsors. These Product Sponsors are selected to participate based on several criteria including brand recognition, product breadth, investment performance, training and wholesaling support. In exchange for certain benefits, such as broader access to SAI Financial Professionals, Product Sponsors in the Premier Funds program are required to pay SAI for participation in the program by sharing with SAI a portion of the revenue generated from the sales of their products. SAI may, at its sole discretion, share all or a portion of the revenue generated under the Premier Funds Program with Financial Professionals who recommend products of sponsors in the program. Certain product sponsors also provide for the payment of a marketing allowance to SAI which may be based upon a percentage of the amount of the sponsor's product purchased by clients. SAI, at its sole discretion, may share all or some of any marketing allowance payments with Representatives as part of compensating them for their marketing and distribution expenditures incurred as a result of promoting the sponsor's products.

For a list of participating funds and variable product sponsors, please ask your Financial Professional or visit our website www.securitiesamerica.com under Investors/Investor Information.

Premier Partners Program. Securities America Advisors, Inc. ("SAA" also referred to herein as "RIA") is an SEC registered investment advisor and is an affiliate of SAI. SAA created the Premier Partners Program for independent investment advisor firms. Investment advisor firms are selected to participate based on several criteria including, investment strategy, investment performance, transaction reporting capabilities and training and wholesaling support. In exchange for certain benefits, such as broader access to Representatives, investment advisors in the Premier Partners Program are required to pay SAA for participation in the program by sharing with SAA a portion of the revenue generated from the sales of their services and/or paying a specified annual dollar amount. In addition, Financial Professionals may receive reimbursements, marketing and distribution allowances, due diligence fees, or other compensation based on deposits and/or assets under management directly from third-party asset manager program sponsors for the costs of marketing, distribution, business and client development, educational enhancement, and/or due diligence reviews incurred by SAA and/or Financial Professionals relating to the promotion or sale of the program sponsor's products or services.

For a list of Premier Partners Program participants, please ask your Financial Professional or visit our website www.securitiesamerica.com under Investors/Investor Information.

Non-Publicly Traded Products. SAI, also offers several non-publicly traded products, including, but not limited to non-listed real estate investment trusts ("REITs"), limited partnerships ("LPs"), and 1031 exchange programs; hedge fund or funds; managed futures; tax credit programs; oil and gas programs; venture capital funds; and private equity funds. SAI conducts or causes to be conducted a due diligence analysis of these products prior to making them available to the public. Such due diligence is not a guarantee or assurance that the products will not lose their value and you should read any offering document or prospectus for such products carefully as they describe the risk associated with such investments. In addition to receiving commissions on the sale of these products, SAI may receive due diligence and/or marketing allowance payments from certain sponsors. While the arrangements with each sponsor may vary, each product sponsor may pay a due diligence or marketing allowance fee based upon the amount of assets held at the sponsor or on the gross amount of each sale, depending on the product. In certain cases, these additional payments are paid or directed to Financial Professionals who sell these products. This may create a conflict of interest based on the amount of compensation each Financial Professional receives when recommending one non-publicly traded product over another.

Due Diligence and Product Administration Expenses. Consistent with prudent product approval practices SAI may require that an independent third party conduct a review of a product sponsor, investment company, investment advisor, or one of their products or services prior to making the product or service available for solicitation to the general public by Financial Professionals. SAI may incur costs in connection with the analysis provided by the due diligence analyst. SAI may in turn require that the investment company or investment advisor reimburse SAI for such expenses. In addition, SAI may at its discretion require investment companies and investment advisors to pay annual fees to reimburse SAI for ongoing due diligence and product administration expenses.

Revenue Sharing and Referral Arrangements with Our Clearing Firm. SAI receives various forms of revenue from NFS based upon client activity, as well as the amount of assets custodied with NFS. In general, these revenue sources include, but are not limited to, a percentage or portion of fees and transaction charges collected by the Clearing Firm and shared with SAI, which may include: ticket charges, margin interest charges, IRA fees, inactivity fees, and other fees set forth in the attached fee schedule and money market fund 12b-1 trails. SAI may also participate in revenue sharing arrangements based on fees charged by no transaction fee (NTF) funds which are available on NFS's platform.

SAI has a referral arrangement with NFS, whereby SAI may receive business credits or other compensation from NFS based on the amount of SAI client assets currently custodied by NFS which may be transferred to the advisory platform maintained by Fidelity Institutional Wealth Services Group (IWS), a division of NFS' affiliated company Fidelity Brokerage Services, LLC, by SAI Financial Professionals, as well as those Financial Professionals who may terminate their registration with SAI and FINRA and conduct business as an investment advisor representative of our RIA or of an independent registered investment advisor (IRIA). SAI may recommend the IWS advisory platform and provide ongoing service and support to investment advisor representatives of our RIA and to IRIA's Financial Professionals. IRIs are under no obligation to transfer client assets to IWS and do not receive any additional compensation or remuneration for selecting IWS. Similarly, clients do not incur any additional fees or expenses as a result of payments of business credits or compensation by NFS to SAI.

Fixed Insurance. SAI is a licensed insurance agency and may receive commissions in connection with the sale of fixed insurance products by Financial Professionals who are licensed to sell fixed insurance products. SAI, in addition to receiving commissions on the sale of these insurance products, receives payments from certain insurance sponsors for marketing, training, and distribution support. None of these additional payments, however, are paid or directed to any Financial Professional/insurance agent who sells these products. In addition, SAI Financial Professionals/insurance agents do not receive a greater or lesser commission for sales of these insurance products from which SAI receives revenue sharing payments. The marketing, educational, and distribution activities paid for with revenue sharing, however, could lead our Financial Professionals/insurance agents to focus more on those insurance products that make revenue sharing payments to SAI – as opposed to insurance sponsors that do not make such payments – when recommending insurance products to their clients.

Insurance Wholesaling. SAI also engages in the wholesale distribution of variable insurance products which generally involves a Financial Professional's provision of product information and sales support to other retail broker-dealer representatives. Financial Professionals who engage in wholesaling activities ("SAI Wholesaling Representatives") are prohibited from receiving both retail and wholesale compensation when working directly with retail investors regarding a purchase recommendation.

When a Financial Professional recommends a variable insurance product on which an SAI Wholesaling Representative has provided product information and support, there may be a conflict of interest because SAI and the SAI Wholesaling Representative may receive revenue from the variable insurance provider. However, Financial Professionals are under no obligation to use variable insurance products for which product information and sales support were provided by a Wholesaling Representative. Additionally, SAI has instituted policies and procedures to restrict total compensation Financial Professionals receive for variable insurance transactions. This restriction is the same for Financial Professionals using the wholesaling services provided by an SAI Wholesaling Representative or a wholesaling representative of a non-affiliated firm. We encourage you to discuss any potential conflicts of interest with your Financial Professional.

SAI Wholesale Representatives must complete Securities America's Wholesale Activities training and attest acknowledgment to their compliance with SAI's Wholesale Distribution Policies and Procedures. An SAI Wholesale Representative must complete required documentation for each transaction to which he/she is a party; and, may only make presentations for SAI approved wholesale products with approved marketing materials, sales literature, and the current product prospectus.

Income Distribution Partner Program. We created the Income Distribution Partner program for certain third-party money managers, variable products, mutual fund and fixed insurance product sponsors. These Product Sponsors are selected to participate based on several criteria including brand recognition, product breadth, investment performance, training and wholesaling support. In exchange for certain benefits, such as broader access to Financial Professionals, sponsors participating in the Income Distribution Partners program are required to pay SAI for participation in the program by sharing with SAI a portion of the revenue generated from the sales of their products. Financial Professionals must complete formal Income Distribution Training to have access to the SAI income distribution planning desk. The SAI income distribution planning desk is available to develop distribution plans for clients of those Financial Professionals who have completed the formal training. The income distribution plans use suitable products available from both the Income Distribution Sponsor Partners and products on the Securities America Approved Product list. Financial Professionals using the planning services are not required to use the products included in the proposal and do not receive a greater or lesser commission for utilizing these products. The marketing educational and distribution activities paid for with revenue sharing, however, could lead Financial Professionals to focus more on those products that make revenue sharing payments to SAI, as opposed to sponsors that do not make such payments. For the most current list of Income Distribution Partner program participants, please ask your Financial Professional or visit www.securitiesamerica.com under Investors/Investor Information."

Potential Conflicts of Interest. SAI is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Securities America Financial Corporation (SAFC), which is itself, a wholly-owned subsidiary of Advisor Group Holding, Inc.

Financial Professionals may sell various investment products, insurance products, make referrals for investment banking services and make referrals for trust services provided through SAI affiliates. A potential conflict of interest may exist when Financial Professionals recommend these products or services. Due to the interrelationship of these entities, conflicts of interest may arise that are not readily apparent to you. SAI may engage in marketing allowance or sponsorship arrangements with third parties, sub-advisors, and brokerage firms to promote the distribution of investment products, however, Financial Professionals are under no obligation to sell these products or to meet any selling quotas related specifically to these products, but they may receive compensation when these products are sold and may receive fees for referring clients for these services. We encourage you to discuss any potential conflicts of interest with your Financial Professional.

Certain securities, such as over-the-counter stocks and fixed income securities are traded primarily in "dealer" markets. In such markets, securities are directly purchased from, or sold to, a financial institution acting as a dealer, or "principal." Dealers executing principal trades typically include a "mark-up," "mark-down," and/or spread in the net price at which transactions are executed. Your Financial Professional may recommend certain bond trade transactions utilizing, an SAI affiliate, LTCO to execute a transaction for a security traded in the dealer markets; LTCO will either execute the transaction as agent through a dealer unaffiliated with LTCO, or as principal in accordance with applicable law. Those accounts covered under the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended (ERISA) are exempt from principal transactions. The client will bear the cost (including any mark-up, mark-down, and/or spread) imposed by the dealer as part of the price of the security. SAI may have a conflict of interest in using LTCO to execute principal transactions because LTCO will receive compensation in connection with the trade as dealer. Clients may also purchase securities through broker-dealers in initial public offerings, secondary offerings and special purpose acquisition company transactions. An SAI affiliate may act as an underwriter or manager for such offerings, and as such, will receive compensation equal to either all or a portion of "gross spread" (the difference between the price the client pays for the security and the price at which it purchased the securities). Our firm may also receive a portion of the gross spread as a member of the syndicate offering. The amount of the gross spread is described in the relevant prospectus, offering circular or official statement.

SAI has a compliance program in place that is intended to identify, mitigate and, in some instances, prevent actual and potential conflicts of interest, ensure compliance with legal and regulatory requirements and ensure compliance with client investment guidelines and restrictions. Our compliance program includes written policies and procedures we believe to be reasonably designed to prevent violations of applicable law and regulations.

INVESTMENT OBJECTIVES AND RISK TOLERANCE

SAI has identified five common investment objectives that it makes available for account holders to determine their objective for the registration. Objective is defined as "something that one's efforts or actions are intended to attain or accomplish; purpose; goal; target" (i.e. my objective for my investments is...). Your investment objective is used in conjunction with other factors such as risk tolerance, time horizon, etc. to determine the optimal portfolio mix.

As the account owner, it is up to you to select the account's investment objective that most closely matches your particular investment objective. Your Financial Professional will rely on your selection when making recommendations to you. However, neither we nor the Clearing Firm can assure you that any given investment or strategy will achieve your investment objective.

Current Income: This investment objective means that you seek investments with emphasis on income generation. You may elect to have some exposure to equities, but you are primarily concerned with preservation of capital.

Balanced: This investment objective means that you seek investments that are generally allocated among holdings that generate income as well as those which offer the potential for growth of the portfolio such as stocks and stock funds. You understand that many stock and stock funds have an income component to them and are willing to utilize stocks and stock funds as a means of income generation.

Growth & Income: This investment objective means that you seek investments that primarily focus on growth of the portfolio with some of your portfolio being allocated to income producing investments.

Growth: This investment objective means that you seek investments with the majority of your allocation being comprised of investments that have a focus on growth of the portfolio with little to no emphasis on producing income.

Maximum Growth: This investment objective means that you seek investments which may consist of your entire portfolio in equities and are very willing to invest in securities that carry a significant degree of volatility beyond traditional equity market indices.

Risk Tolerance is defined as "degree of uncertainty that an investor can handle in regard to a negative change in the value of his or her portfolio."

There is a direct correlation between the level of risk that an investor is willing to take in their portfolio and the potential upside that is possible with that given portfolio. When identifying your risk tolerance, it is important to note that, in general, investments with a low degree of risk generally will have a lesser degree of upside potential but provide lesser downside as well. Conversely, those investments that have a high degree of risk have the potential for greater returns but provide significant risk to the downside as well.

SAI has identified six levels of risk tolerance that it makes available to account holders to use in order to determine their particular level of investment risk. Similar to your investment objective, it is your responsibility to identify the level of risk that you are willing to accept for this account.

We have provided definitions for our six Risk Tolerances below:

Conservative: This risk tolerance indicates an investor is NOT willing to tolerate large market fluctuations and is willing to forgo significant upside potential to achieve this goal. Most conservative investors want their portfolio to provide them an income stream to help meet living expenses. They are more concerned with protecting their principal than growing their portfolio.

Moderately Conservative: This risk tolerance indicates that an investor can tolerate a bit more risk than the conservative investor but is still averse to large short-term fluctuations. They want to be protected somewhat from large downside market movements and are willing to not fully participate when the markets rally upwards. Their portfolio will still fall when markets decline, but they want to be somewhat protected.

Moderate: This risk tolerance indicates an investor is in a middle-of-the-road category. They want good returns and know that they must take on more risk to get those good returns. The portfolio may hold a wide range of asset classes ranging from short term bonds to high risk stock funds. They know that they will lose money if the markets go down but also expect to participate in gains when the markets are performing well.

Moderately Aggressive: This risk tolerance indicates an investor wants to outperform stock market indices when the markets go up but are aware of and accept the fact that they will likely be down more than the market indices when the stock markets perform poorly. They are willing to accept more risk than the average investor for the potential of greater returns.

Aggressive: This risk tolerance indicates an investor wants to substantially outperform the stock market and is willing to accept the higher degree of risk associated with seeking returns that outperform. They are very aware of that a similar level of outperformance when markets are performing well can negatively impact them when markets are not faring well. They accept a high level of risk with the potential for greater returns.

Speculative: This risk tolerance indicates an investor is comfortable with the highest level of risk and the highest average possibility for loss of initial investment value in exchange for higher potential to profit from an anticipated price move.

USA PATRIOT ACT NOTICE

To help the government fight financial crimes, Federal regulation and contractual obligations between SAI and the Clearing Firm require us to obtain your name, date of birth, address, and a government-issued ID number before opening your account, and to verify the information. In certain circumstances, we may obtain and verify comparable information for any person authorized to make transactions in an account or beneficial owners of certain entities. Additional documentation is required for certain entities, such as trusts, estates, corporations, partnerships, or other organizations. Your account may be restricted and/or closed if we or the Clearing Firm cannot verify this information. Neither we nor the Clearing Firm will be responsible for any losses or damages (including, but not limited to, lost opportunities) resulting from any failure to provide this information, or from any restriction placed upon, or closing of, your account.

The Clearing Firm does not permit bearer-share entity accounts if known to the Clearing Firm on its platform. If it comes to the Clearing Firm's attention that an entity account has issued or is permitted to issue bearer shares, the Clearing Firm will restrict the account to permit liquidations only.

MONITORING YOUR ACCOUNT

As an account owner, you are responsible for monitoring your account. This includes making sure that all transactions are accurate and that you are receiving confirmations, account statements, and any other expected communications. You should review these communications to ensure that the information about you and the activities in your account are accurate and contain nothing suspicious or unauthorized. You understand that the Clearing Firm does not monitor your brokerage account for you and has no duty to advise you of any issue regarding your brokerage account or us.

If you have the Program or BDSP as your core account investment vehicle, you understand that we or the Clearing Firm will not monitor the amount of your Program or BDSP balance to determine whether it exceeds the limits of FDIC insurance, and that you are responsible for monitoring the total amount of your assets on deposit with each Program Bank in order to determine the extent of FDIC insurance coverage available to you. If you are a trustee or other fiduciary, you are responsible for determining the application of the insurance rules for the account and its beneficiaries.

So long as we or the Clearing Firm or Product Sponsor send communications to you at the physical or electronic address of record given on the application, or to any other address given to us by an owner, the communications are legally presumed to have been delivered, whether you actually received them or not. In addition, confirmations are presumed to be accurate unless you specifically notify us in writing within five days of when they were sent to you; account statements, within ten days.

If you have not received a communication you expected, or if you have a question or believe you have found an error in any communication, telephone us immediately and follow up with written notice at the telephone number and address listed on page 1 under Notices.

If, through any error, you have received property that is not rightfully yours, you agree to notify us and to immediately return the property and any earnings it may have yielded.

If we identify an error in connection with property you have received from or through us or an affiliate and determine it is not rightfully yours, you agree that we may take action to correct the error, which may include returning such property to the rightful owner.

LIMITS OF RESPONSIBILITY

Although all entities that provide services to your account strive to ensure the quality and reliability of those services, neither we nor the Clearing Firm can be responsible for the availability, accuracy, timeliness, completeness, or security of any service related to your account. These services are provided "as is" and "as available".

You therefore agree that we and the Clearing Firm are not responsible to you for any losses (meaning claims, damages, actions, demands, investment losses, direct or indirect, incidental, special, punitive, consequential, or other losses, as well as any costs, charges, attorneys' fees, or other fees and expenses) that you incur as a result of conditions beyond our control or any agreement between the Parties. This includes, for example:

- Any action that is done in accordance with the procedures described in this Agreement or an applicable mutual fund or securities prospectus or Program or BDSF Disclosure Document or other investment description.
- The acceptance and processing of any order or transaction placed in your account, whether received electronically or through other means, as long as the order appears to be authentic.
- Investment decisions or instructions placed in your account, or other such actions attributable to you or any authorized person including your Financial Professional.
- Occurrences related to governments or markets, such as rules and regulations, restrictions, suspensions of trading, bank closures or bank regulatory, legal or other limitations or restrictions or high market volatility or trading volumes.
- Uncontrollable circumstances in the world at large, such as wars, terrorist activities, earthquakes, power outages, or unusual weather conditions.
- Occurrences related to computers and communications, such as a network or systems failure, a message interception, or an instance of unauthorized access or breach of security over which we have no control or reasonable ability to know it has occurred (such as theft of your personal information by a third party, spyware or malware on your computer) or other actions or inactions by you resulting in unauthorized activities in your account.
- Telephone requests for money transfers, so long as we transmit the proceeds to you or the bank account number identified by you.
- Any checks or other debits to your account that are not honored because the account has insufficient funds.

If any service failure is determined to be our responsibility, we will be liable only for whatever benefit you would have realized up to the time by which you should have notified us, as specified earlier in "Monitoring Your Account."

INDEMNIFICATION

You agree to indemnify us from, and hold us harmless for, any losses (as defined in Limits of Responsibility) resulting from your actions or failures to act, whether intentional or not, including losses resulting from actions taken by third parties on your behalf.

Beyond taking reasonable steps to verify the authenticity of instructions, we have no obligation to contact you with regard to the purpose, wisdom, or propriety of any instruction we receive from you or your authorized agents.

TERMS CONCERNING THIS AGREEMENT

Applicability

This Agreement is the only agreement between you and us, concerning its subject matter and covers all brokerage and non-brokerage accounts that you, at whatever time, open, reopen, or have opened with us. In addition, if you have already entered into any agreements concerning services or features that relate to this account, or if you do so in the future, this Agreement incorporates by reference the terms, conditions, and policies of those agreements. In the case of any conflict between this Agreement and an agreement for a particular service or feature, the service or feature agreement will prevail.

Termination

Notwithstanding contrary statements from third parties (such as Product Sponsor companies), we or the Clearing Firm can terminate your account, this Agreement or any account feature, at any time or for any reason - including reasonable belief that a version of this Agreement containing unauthorized changes has been used - upon written notice to you. You can close your account, or terminate any optional feature at any time, by notifying us in writing or calling us on a recorded line and providing us with your instructions. When an account is closed, all debit cards, checkwriting, and other features associated with it are terminated. The bank associated with your debit card and checkwriting services cannot close your brokerage account, but can terminate its debit card or checkwriting services

Regardless of how or when your account is closed, you will remain responsible for all unpaid obligations of your account. This includes charges, debit items, or other transactions you initiated or authorized, whether arising before or after termination, as well as any fees incurred but not yet charged to your account. Payment for these obligations will be deducted from your final account balance.

In order to ensure you are able to receive communications, (including statements, checks, etc.) from us, it is important that you notify us of your address should you move. If we receive mail returned from the U.S. post office as undeliverable and we or your Financial Professional are unable to contact you or find your correct address, you may be designated as a "lost security holder." If this happens, your account may be restricted and/or closed. You may not be able to place trades or receive funds from your account until you update your address. If you are designated as a "lost security holder" we will attempt to find you by conducting data bases searches. In addition, if we are unable to contact you for a certain period of time (the period of time is specified by applicable state laws and may vary from state to state) your account balance and any un-cashed checks or outstanding credits may be transferred to a state unclaimed property administrator.

Texas Residents only: In accordance with Texas House Bill 1454, you, as an account owner, may designate a representative for the purpose of receiving a due diligence notice. If you add a designated representative, NFS is required to mail the written notice upon presumption of abandonment to the representative, in addition to mailing the notice to you, the account owner.

Governing Laws and Policies

With respect to matters between you and us, this Agreement and its enforcement shall be governed by the laws of the State of Nebraska, but not its conflicts of law provisions. With respect to matters involving NFS, this Agreement and its enforcement shall be governed by the laws of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. In the event NFS is made a party either as a respondent or cross respondent to a claim initiated by you, NFS shall have the right to require that all issues be adjudicated under the laws of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Modification and Enforcement

We may amend this Agreement at any time. This may include changing, dropping, or adding fees and policies, changing features and services or the entities that provide them, and limiting the usage or availability of any feature or service, within the limits of applicable laws and regulations. The most current version of this Agreement is available online at www.securitiesamerica.com under Investors/investor information or by contacting your Financial Professional. No provision of this Agreement can be amended or waived except in writing by an authorized representative of SAI. Your Financial Professional is not authorized to act on behalf of SAI or our RIA, to change any terms of this Agreement.

We or the Clearing Firm may transfer our interests in your account or this Agreement to any of our successors and assigns, whether by merger, consolidation, or otherwise. You may not transfer your interests in your account or this Agreement except with our prior written approval or through inheritance, corporate dissolution, or similar circumstance, as allowed by law, in which case any rights and obligations in existence at the time will accrue to, and be binding on, your heirs, executors, administrators, successors, or assigns.

We or the Clearing Firm may enforce this Agreement against any and all account owners. Although we or the Clearing Firm may not always enforce certain provisions of this Agreement, both parties retain the full right to do so at any time.

If any provision of this Agreement is found to be in conflict with applicable laws, rules, or regulations, either present or future, that provision will be enforced to the maximum extent allowable, or made to conform, as the case may be. However, the remainder of this Agreement will remain fully in effect. No waiver of any provision of this Agreement will be considered a waiver of any other provision.

If for any reason (such as the termination of a contract between us and the Clearing Firm) your account is held directly by the Clearing Firm, it may be restricted, and there may be new or different fees and commissions. Examples of restrictions include the ability to place sell orders only and the loss of electronic trading.

Although there is no minimum balance requirement beyond those set by industry regulation, we may review your account for activity and may charge an inactivity fee, close your account, or transfer your account to another provider. We will notify you in writing before we close or transfer your account. If your account is transferred, it may have different fees, features and terms.

BUSINESS CONTINUITY DISCLOSURE STATEMENT

Securities America, Inc. ("Securities America" or the "Firm" including advisory services of Securities America Advisors, Inc. and advisory services of Arbor Point Advisors, LLC) is providing you with this information to inform you of its ability to respond to certain business disruptions at your financial professional's local office or at the main office of Securities America. Your financial professional is associated with Securities America and, as a result, all transactions that you place through him or her are processed through Securities America's systems. Securities America's ability to respond to business disruptions is therefore important to your relationship with your financial professional.

In general, Securities America maintains a business continuity plan and intends to continue business in the event of a significant business disruption. Securities America is an introducing broker-dealer and, as such, it relies on its correspondent-clearing firm to perform certain functions on its behalf, including the execution of securities transactions and the maintenance of customer funds and securities. Accordingly, the Firm's ability to respond to certain business disruptions is partially dependent on our clearing firm.

In the event of a significant business disruption at either the local or main office, Securities America may route calls to an office location in a separate geographic location and, if necessary, transfer operations to a facility maintained by a third-party vendor. Although Securities America intends to continue business in the event of a significant business disruption, there are some disruptions that may render the Firm or your financial professional unable to continue business. Under such circumstances, Securities America will ensure that clients will be able to access their funds and securities within a reasonable time.

To provide clients with up-to-date information during a significant business disruption to your financial professional's local office or the main office of Securities America, clients may call the Firm's emergency telephone number at 800-552-3319 or visit our emergency information webpage at securitiesamerica.com.

I. Securities America's Response to Events of Varying Scope

The following sections describe specific events and Securities America's corresponding general response to those events. Clients, however, should note that these responses are subject to modification and, depending on the severity of a specific event, Securities America cannot guarantee that it will be able to follow the stated course of action. If these responses are modified, Securities America will post the updated disclosure statement on its website. In the alternative, you may request from your financial professional that the Firm send you, by mail, a copy of the updated disclosure statement.

Under the following scenarios, Securities America intends to continue its business:

A Disruptions to a Single Building or Firm-Only Business Disruption

These disruptions may be caused by physical damage, technology problems, or an inability to have personnel arrive at an office. In the event that there is a significant business disruption to a single building or the Firm's internal primary systems, Securities America may, if necessary, transfer its operations or route incoming calls to another office in a separate geographic location. From this separate location, Securities America will accept client orders. In this process, clients may experience a minor delay in reaching the Firm due to increased client calls, technology delays, or other minor difficulties arising from the transfer of operations. Securities America expects that operations could be disrupted for up to one (1) hour. If Securities America's trading platform is affected, there may be a more significant delay. Securities America, however, will be able to place orders outside the trading platform.

A Business District, Citywide, or Regional Disruption

In the event that there is a significant business disruption that affects the business district, city, or region where any of the Firm's primary systems are located, Securities America may, if necessary, transfer its operations or route incoming calls to another office in a separate geographic location. In this process, clients may experience a minor delay in reaching the firm due to increased client calls, technology delays, or other minor difficulties arising from the transfer of operations. If the disruption is significant, Securities America may transfer its operations to a third-party service provider. In addition, if our clearing firm is affected by the business-district, citywide, or regional disruption, clients may experience additional delays. Nevertheless, Securities America expects that operations could be disrupted for up to four (4) hours.

II. Our Clearing Firm may be contacted in Limited Situations

To process limited (sell only) trade related transactions, cash disbursements, and security transfers, please call the NFS Customer Service Line at 800-801-9942.

III. Variable Product Holdings and Certain Mutual Fund Holdings

The Firm does not place its variable annuity transactions through its clearing firm; rather, transactions are placed directly through the variable annuity provider. Accordingly, in the unlikely event that Securities America is unable to continue business, clients may directly contact their variable annuity provider, as indicated on their periodic account statements, to process limited trade-related transactions. Certain mutual fund transactions also may not be placed through our clearing firm. If this is the case, in the unlikely event that Securities America is unable to continue business, clients may directly contact their mutual fund provider, as indicated on their periodic account statements, to process limited trade-related transactions. Please contact your representative to determine whether your mutual fund transactions are placed through our clearing firm or directly through a mutual fund provider.

The following paragraphs apply uniquely to all activities in a brokerage account processed by the Clearing Firm

Core Account and Income

Your brokerage account includes a core account investment vehicle (sometimes referred to as a "core account") that is used for settling transactions and holding credit balances. You understand that by opening your account, you are authorizing us to use the following core account to invest your cash/credit balances for your brokerage account:

If your account is:

- (i) A non-retirement account
 - (a) the BDSP - (if the account is otherwise eligible)
 - (b) the Fidelity Government Money Market Fund-Capital Reserves Class [FZAXX] – (if the account is not otherwise eligible for the BDSP)
- (ii) A non-ERISA IRA account – (advised)
 - (a) the Insured Cash Account Program ("Program") - (if the account is otherwise eligible)
 - (b) the Federated Treasury Obligations Fund-IS [TOIXX] - (if the account is not otherwise eligible for the Program)
- (iii) A non-ERISA IRA account (not advised)
 - (a) the BDSP (if the account is otherwise eligible)
 - (b) the Fidelity Government Money Market Fund-Capital Reserves Class [FZAXX] – (if the account is not otherwise eligible for the BDSP)
- (iv) A non-IRA Retirement account – (advised)
 - (a) the BDSP (if the account is otherwise eligible)
 - (b) the Federated Treasury Obligations Fund-IS [TOIXX] - (if the account is not otherwise eligible for the Program)
- (v) A non-IRA Retirement account (not advised)
 - (a) the BDSP (if the account is otherwise eligible)
 - (b) the Fidelity Government Money Market Fund-Capital Reserves Class [FZAXX] – (if the account is not otherwise eligible for the BDSP)

If the above identified core account is unavailable, upon notice to you, you are authorizing us to use an alternative core account. Different core accounts may have different rates of return and different terms and conditions such as FDIC insurance or SIPC protection. For more information on FDIC insurance, please consult www.FDIC.gov. You acknowledge that you understand and have considered these differences when opening your account and authorizing the establishment of a core account. If you become a non-U.S. customer and you are no longer eligible to invest in your current core account, note that the sweep to your core account will be suspended. Should the Clearing Firm determine you no longer are a non-U.S. customer, this suspension will be lifted, and any free credit balance will resume being swept to your core account investment vehicle that had been suspended (or, if that core account investment vehicle is not available, a default core account investment vehicle) and on a going forward basis your account will operate as otherwise described in this customer agreement or any amendments hereto.

If your core account investment vehicle is the Program or BDSP, the Clearing Firm will provide to you and/or your Financial Professional will make available to you, as applicable, the Program or BDSP Disclosure Document describing the Program or BDSP terms and conditions. You understand you are responsible for reading the Disclosure Document. If your core account investment vehicle is a money market mutual fund, we, the Clearing Firm or your Financial Professional will provide the prospectus for that fund describing the product in detail, including its description of the fund, the fund's fees and charges, minimum investment amounts and the operation of the fund. You understand you are responsible for reading the fund prospectus.

If your core account investment vehicle is the Program or BDSP, you authorize us to withdraw cash from the Program or BDSP to satisfy any and all debits against your brokerage account. If your core account investment vehicle is a money market mutual fund you authorize liquidating shares of the core account investment vehicle to satisfy any and all debits against your brokerage account.

You understand that securities held in your account (as opposed to the cash balance held in the Program or BDSP) are investment products and as such: (i) are not insured by the FDIC; (ii) carry no bank or government guarantees; and (iii) have associated risk. By investing in securities, you understand that you can lose your money, including the principal amount that you invested.

You understand that securities held at NFS (as well as funds held by NFS and not at a Bank) are covered by SIPC. Core account investment vehicle balances held at a Bank that are eligible for FDIC insurance are not covered by SIPC. You understand that your cash balances, held at NFS (that are not in the Program or BDSP) are not FDIC insured, but are covered by SIPC.

If the core account investment vehicle designated in your account application becomes unavailable at any time for any reason, you authorize us or the Clearing Firm to utilize an alternative core account investment vehicle as is described in the applicable Program or BDSP Disclosure Document provided to you. In this event, you understand and agree that you authorize us to place any or all of the credit balances in your account into the alternative core account investment vehicle.

Where permitted by Applicable Law, you hereby authorize us and/or Clearing Firm to change or replace the core account investment vehicle available to you. We will give you advance notice of any such change in the core account investment vehicle. Unless you notify us of an objection to any such change within 30 days of such notice, you authorize us to withdraw cash or redeem securities maintained in the prior core account investment vehicle and to invest or place the resulting proceeds in the replacement core account investment vehicle. You understand that you will be bound by the terms and conditions, which may be amended from time to time on notice to you, for the core account investment vehicle that is associated with your account, as described in the applicable Program or BDSP Disclosure Document.

By signing the Account Application, you represent that you have read this Customer Agreement and the Program or BDSP Disclosure Document, as applicable, and understand, authorize and consent to us or the Clearing Firm changing your core account investment vehicle according to the terms and conditions of those documents, to another money market mutual fund, a free credit balance position (if applicable) or another cash investment vehicle, if available. You agree to hold us and the Clearing Firm or our agents harmless for any actions taken in connection with or resulting from changing your core account investment vehicle, including but not limited to, any changes in the rate of return offered by the alternative core account investment vehicle that we or our agents may select for you. You understand and agree that the new core account investment vehicle (i) may not be a bank deposit sweep product, (ii) may not be eligible for FDIC insurance and (iii) may not provide the same interest rate and/or rate of return as your previous core account investment vehicle. In the event of such occurrence, you may contact us for information on any such core account investment vehicle.

Your account also includes an income account, which receives all non-reinvested income produced by securities held in your account (such as interest, dividends, and mutual fund distributions). Income paid into this account will accrue until paid out according to your instructions.

Program; BDSP; and FDIC

Please refer to your Program or BDSP Disclosure Document, as applicable, for more information on FDIC insurance coverage. You may also contact your Financial Professional with any questions you may have about the Program or BDSP. For more information on FDIC Insurance, please consult www.fdic.gov.

Benefits of the Program and BDSP to Us and Others

The Program creates financial benefits for us, our affiliates, and NFS. Except with respect to advised retirement accounts, we will receive a fee from each Program Bank in connection with the BDSP. We will also pay a fee to NFS. In the Program, each month, a level administrative fee is applied to non-ERISA advised IRA accounts using the Program as the core account. The level account fee is predetermined by formula, as stated in the Program Disclosure document, and we cannot earn income in excess of the stated level account fee. The aggregate interest generated by Program Banks participating in the Program is used to pay the level account fee for each individual client and to pay any third-party vendor fees. All interest left over after these payments is then credited to client accounts participating in the Program. A detailed explanation of the method for calculating interest and fees is available in the Program Disclosure Document, as provided to you, and as available on the Investors section of the securitiesamerica.com website. The revenue generated by us may be greater than revenues generated by sweep options at other brokerage firms and may be greater than other core account investment vehicles currently available to you or possible core account investment vehicles that we have used in the past or may consider using in the future. SAI and any Program Banks who are affiliated with it may receive additional benefits under the Programs. SAI will disclose on its list of Program Banks maintained at www.securitiesamerica.com any Program Banks with which it is affiliated.

SIPC Account Protection

The securities in your account are protected in accordance with the Securities Investor Protection Corporation (SIPC) for up to $500,000, including up to $250,000 protection for claims for cash, subject to periodic adjustments for inflation in accordance with the terms of the SIPC statute and approval by SIPC's Board of Directors. NFS has also arranged for additional coverage above these limits. Neither coverage protects against a decline in the value of your securities, nor does either coverage extend to certain securities that are considered ineligible for coverage. For more details on SIPC, or to request a SIPC brochure, visit www.sipc.org or call 1-202-371-8300.

Transferring Money Electronically

Options for transferring cash in and out of your core account electronically include wires, which use the Federal Reserve wire system, and Electronic Funds Transfer (EFT), which work like an electronic check. These features are optional and require separate instructions from you, which we will relay to the Clearing Firm.

Margin Account (Requires Separate Application)

A margin account lets you borrow money from the Clearing Firm, using as collateral eligible securities that are in your account. A margin account is designed primarily to finance additional purchases of securities, although it can also provide overdraft protection for your cash management activities.

Margin privileges on a Non-Prototype Plan Account or IRA may be limited to purchasing or selling securities. Securities purchased on margin may be considered "debt-financed property" and subject to unrelated business taxable income (UBTI). Any filing or taxes due, including UBTI, are the responsibility of the plan's trustee or IRA custodian.

Non-Purpose Loans are not permitted on a Non-Prototype Plan or IRA accounts.

Consult your Financial Professional for information on how to establish margin and the benefits and risks it offers.

Applicable Rules and Regulations

All transactions through the Clearing Firm are subject to the rules, guidelines, and customs of the marketplace where they are executed, and those of any clearing facility the Clearing Firm may use, as well as applicable state and federal laws and any trading policies and limitations of the Clearing Firm that are in effect at the time.

Dividend Reinvestment

In addition to reinvestment of mutual fund dividends, reinvestment of dividends from eligible equities and closed-end funds is an option for most accounts, including retirement accounts and those with margin. You can choose to have the service apply to all eligible securities in your account, or only to certain ones, although during the time when a security is enrolled for reinvestment, all of that security's eligible distributions must be reinvested through this service.

With certain securities (such as mutual funds), the reinvestment options available in this account may be different than those you would have if you were to invest directly with the issuer.

With this feature, all dividends paid by securities that you designate for reinvestment are automatically reinvested in additional shares of the same security. ("Dividends" here means cash dividends and capital gain distributions, but not cash-in-lieu payments, late ex-dividend payments, and special dividend payments.) In designating any security for reinvestment, you authorize the Clearing Firm to purchase shares of that security for your account.

To be eligible for this feature, a security must satisfy all of the following:

- Be a closed-end fund, domestic common stock, or ADR.
- Be margin-eligible (as defined by the Clearing Firm).
- Be listed on the New York Stock Exchange or the American Stock Exchange or traded on NASDAQ.
- Be held in street name by the Clearing Firm (or at a securities depository on its behalf).
- Not be held as a short position.

Dividends are reinvested on shares that satisfy all of the following:

- The security is eligible.
- You own the shares on the dividend record date.
- You own the shares on the dividend payable date (or the posting date, for shares handled through the DTC program described below), even if you sell them that day.
- Your position in the security has been settled on or before the record date.
- The shares are designated for reinvestment as of 9:00 p.m. Eastern Time on the record date (or, if the record date is not a business day, then the last business day before the record date).

If you designate securities on an account-wide basis, any ineligible securities you own will automatically be designated if and when they become eligible.

If an issuer delays a dividend, the reinvestment will occur on the day the dividend is actually paid.

Automatic reinvestments often involve purchase of partial shares, calculated to three decimal places. Partial shares pay pro-rated dividends and can be sold if you sell your entire share position, and will be liquidated automatically in transfers and certain other situations, but otherwise typically cannot be sold.

Although for dividend reinvestments your regular account statement takes the place of a confirmation, you can obtain immediate information the day after the reinvestment date by contacting us.

If you transfer or reregister your account with us (for example, by changing from individual to joint registration), you need to re-designate any securities whose dividends you want reinvested.

Optional Dividends

At times certain issuers that pay dividends may offer shareholders an opportunity to elect to receive stock or cash, or a combination of both. This is known as an "Optional Dividend." The issuer will assign a default if no instruction is received. For example, the default option could be cash, stock, or a combination of both. You have the opportunity up until the applicable deadline to make an election to receive the payment of their choice. Please be advised, if you do not make an election prior to the deadline, your account will be assigned a default election based on the dividend reinvestment program instructions you established with respect to your account. This default election will be utilized in lieu of the issuer's default option being applied to your account.

Depository Trust Company's (DTC) Dividend Reinvestment Program

At our option, we may buy reinvestment shares through a program offered by the Depository Trust Company ("DTC") that offers a share price discount of up to five (5) percent. To find out which securities are currently available through the DTC, contact us. Note that the availability through this program of any given security may change without notice. Also note that DTC program transactions take longer to process: although the transactions are effective as of the dividend payable date, they are generally not posted to your account until 10 to 15 days later. If you sell your dividend-generating shares before the posting date, the dividend will not be reinvested.

To remove securities from the dividend reinvestment service, notify us in writing or by telephone during normal business hours. We must receive your notification by 9:00 p.m. Eastern Time one business day before the record date (or, if the record date is not a business day, then two business days before the record date).

Note that dividend reinvestment does not assure a profit on your investments and does not protect against loss in declining markets.

We reserve the right to charge a fee for this service. The rate charged is determined by the Clearing Firm or us and may change at any time without notice to you. To learn more, speak to your Financial Professional.

POLICIES ON TRANSACTIONS IN BROKERAGE ACCOUNTS

Credits to Your Account

During normal business hours ("Intra-day"), activity in your account, such as deposits and the receipt of settlement proceeds, are credited to your account and may be held as a free credit balance (the "Intra-day Free Credit Balance").

Activity in your account, such as deposits and the receipt of settlement proceeds, may also occur after the cut-offs described above, or on days the market is not open and the Fedwire Funds Service is not operating (collectively "After-hours"). Those amounts are credited to your account and may be held as a free credit balance (the "After-hours Free Credit Balance").

Like any free credit balance, the Intra-day and After-hours Free Credit Balances represent amounts payable to you on demand by NFS.

Subject to applicable law, NFS may use these free credit balances in connection with its business. NFS may, but is not required to, pay you interest on free credit balances held in your account overnight— provided that the accrued interest for a given day is at least half a cent. Interest, if paid, will be based upon a schedule set by NFS, which may change from time to time at NFS's sole discretion.

Interest paid on free credit balances will be labeled "Credit Interest" in the Investment Activity section of your account statement. Interest is calculated on a periodic basis and credited to your account on the next business day after the end of the period. This period typically runs from approximately the 20th day of one month to the 20th day of the next month, provided, however, that the beginning and ending periods each year run, respectively, from the 1st of the year to approximately the 20th of January, and approximately the 20th of December to the end of the year. Interest is calculated by multiplying your average overnight free credit balance during the period by the applicable interest rate, provided, however, that if more than one interest rate is applicable during the period, this calculation will be modified to account for the number of days each period during which each interest rate is applicable.

Each check or Automated Clearing House deposit (ACH) deposited is promptly credited to your account. However, the money may not be available to use until up to four (4) business days later, and NFS may decline to honor any debit that is applied against the money before the deposited check or ACH has cleared. If a deposited check or ACH does not clear, the deposit will be removed from your account, and you are responsible for returning any interest you received on it. Note that NFS only can accept checks denominated in U.S. dollars and drawn on a U.S. bank account (including a U.S. branch of a foreign bank).

In addition, if NFS has reason to believe that assets were incorrectly credited to your account, NFS may restrict such assets and/or return such assets to the account from which they were transferred.

If You Utilize a Fidelity Money Market Fund as Your Core Position

If you utilize a Fidelity money market fund as your core position, the Intra-day Free Credit Balance, if any, generated by activity occurring prior to the market close each business day (or 4:00 p.m. ET on business days when the market is closed and the Fedwire Funds Service is operating) is automatically swept into my core account and invested in your core position at the market close.

There will be an additional automatic sweep into your core account early in the morning prior to the start of business on each business day that will also be invested in your core position at that time. This will include your After-hours Free Credit Balance along with credit amounts attributed to certain actual or anticipated transactions that would otherwise generate an Intra-day Free Credit Balance on such business day.

If You Utilize the BDSP as Your Core Position

If you utilize the BDSP as your core position, the Intra-day Free Credit Balance, if any, as well as any After-hours Free Credit Balance generated by activity occurring prior to NFS's nightly processing cycle are automatically swept into your core account as part of that nightly cycle (the "Evening Bank Sweep") and reflected in your Account as Program Deposits (as defined below) in anticipation of the deposit process described below occurring on the next business day.

There will be an additional automatic sweep into your core account early in the morning prior to the start of business on each business day that will also be invested in your core position at that time (the "Morning Bank Sweep"). This will include credit amounts attributed to certain actual or anticipated transactions that would otherwise generate an Intra-day Free Credit Balance on such business day.

The total amount of the Evening Bank Sweep and the Morning Bank Sweep is referred to as your Cash Balance. In the morning of the business day of the Morning Bank Sweep, your Cash Balance will be deposited in an FDIC-insured interest-bearing account (a "Program Deposit Account") at one or more participating banks (each, a "Program Bank"). The amounts on deposit are collectively referred to as your Program Deposits, and Program Deposits are eligible for FDIC insurance. Your Program Deposit will earn interest, provided that the accrued interest for a given day is at least half a cent.

If You Utilize the Interest-Bearing Option (FCASH) as Your Core Position

If you utilize FCASH as your core position, the Intra-day Free Credit Balance, if any, as well as any After-hours Free Credit Balance generated by activity occurring prior to NFS's nightly processing cycle is automatically swept into your core account as part of that nightly cycle and held in the interest-bearing option.

Debits to Your Account

Deferred debit card charges are debited monthly. All other debit items (including checks, debit card transactions, bill payments, securities purchases, electronic transfers of money, levies, court orders, or other legal process payments) are paid daily to the extent that sufficient funds are available. Note that debits to resolve securities transactions (including margin calls) will be given priority over other debits, such as checks or debit card transactions.

As an account owner, you are responsible for satisfying all debits in your account, including any debit balance outstanding after all assets have been removed from an account, any margin interest (at prevailing margin rates) that has accrued on that debit and any costs (such as legal fees) that NFS incurs collecting the debit. You are responsible for ensuring that checks issued to you representing distributions from your account are promptly presented for payment. If a check issued to you from your account remains uncashed and outstanding for at least six months, you authorize and instruct NFS, in its sole discretion, to cancel the check and return the underlying proceeds to you by depositing the proceeds into your account.

To help ensure the proper discharge of debits, it is NFS's policy to do the following when settling debits against your account.

During normal business hours, activity in your account, such as wire disbursements and bill payments, are debited from your account.

If You Utilize a Fidelity Money Market Fund as Your Core Position

If you utilize a Fidelity money market fund as your core position and there are debits in your account generated by account activity occurring prior to the market close each business day (or 4:00 p.m. ET on business days when the market is closed and the Fedwire Funds Service is operating), these debits will be settled at the market close using the following sources, in this order:

1. any Intra-Day Free Credit Balances
2. proceeds from the sale of your core position at the market close
3. redemption proceeds from the sale of any shares of a Fidelity money market mutual fund held in the account that maintains a stable (i.e., $1.00/share) net asset value and is not subject to a liquidity fee or similar fee or assessment
4. if you have a margin account, any margin surplus available, which will increase your margin balance

There will be an additional sweep early in the morning prior to the start of business on each business day, and certain unsettled debits in your account along with debits associated with certain actual or anticipated transactions that would otherwise generate a debit in your account during the business day will be settled using redemption proceeds from the sale your core position early in the morning prior to the start of business.

If You Utilize the Bank Sweep as Your Core Position

If you utilize the Bank Sweep as your core position and there are debits in your account generated by account activity occurring prior to NFS's nightly processing cycle these debits will be settled using the following sources, in this order:

1. any Intra-day or After-hours Free Credit Balances
2. proceeds from the withdrawal of Program Deposits occurring on the next business day (not including bank holidays or days on which the New York Stock Exchange is closed, such as Good Friday)
3. redemption proceeds from the sale of any shares of a Fidelity money market mutual fund held in the account that maintains a stable (i.e., $1.00/share) net asset value and is not subject to a liquidity fee or similar fee or assessment
4. if you have a margin account, any margin surplus available, which will increase your margin balance

In addition, early in the morning prior to the start of business on each business day, certain unsettled debits in your account along with debits associated with certain actual or anticipated transactions that would otherwise generate a debit in your account during the business day will be settled using proceeds from the withdrawal of Program Deposits occurring that business day (not including bank holidays or days on which the New York Stock Exchange is closed, such as Good Friday).

If You Utilize the Interest-Bearing Option ("FCASH") as Your Core Position

If I utilize the Interest-Bearing option as your core position and there are debits in your account generated by account activity occurring prior to NFS's nightly processing cycle, these debits will be settled using the following sources, in this order:

1. any Intra-day or After-hours Free Credit Balances
2. funds held in FCASH
3. redemption proceeds from the sale of any shares of a Fidelity money market mutual fund held in the account that maintains a stable (i.e., $1.00/share) net asset value and is not subject to a liquidity fee or similar fee or assessment
4. If you have a margin account, any margin surplus available, which will increase your margin balance

In addition to the foregoing, we may turn to the following sources:

- redemption proceeds from the sale of any shares of a Fidelity money market fund held in another non-retirement account with the same registration (which you authorize us to sell for this purpose when you sign the application)
- any securities in any other account at NFS in which you have an interest

Contact your Broker-Dealer for additional options for handling debits in your account if you utilize FCASH as your core position. In the event that your account does not contain sufficient cash, NFS may liquidate securities to satisfy a court order, levy, or any other legal process payment.

In the event you hold a money market fund in your account that is held outside of your core account that is subject to a liquidity fee or redemption gate (as described in more detail in the fund's prospectus), upon notice to NFS by the fund that a liquidity fee or redemption gate has been imposed, the cash available and running collective balance in your account will be reduced by the amount of the value of the impacted money market fund. Payment of debit items from your account will continue to be paid as described in this agreement, but NFS will only pay items from a money market fund that has imposed a liquidity fee as part of that payment process after the other sources are attempted.

You acknowledge that if a money market fund held in your account imposes a liquidity fee or redemption gate, the money market fund may not provide NFS with much, if any, advance notice of such liquidity fee or redemption gate. As a result, you may not be notified of such liquidity fee or redemption gate when you submit a trade. However, as instructed by the fund (and disclosed in the fund prospectus), your trade will be subject to such liquidity fee or redemption gate, and it may be applied to your trade retroactively.

Interest on any margin debt will accrue beginning the day credit is extended and is subject to the terms of the Supplemental Application for NFS Margin Account Privileges. Money market fund shares used to pay debits are redeemed at the NAV in effect at the time. For disclosures concerning money market funds, see "Money Market Fund Investments" later in this agreement.

Resolving Unpaid Debts or Other Obligations

You will maintain enough assets in your account to satisfy all obligations as they become due, and you authorize us or the Clearing Firm to take whatever steps we or the Clearing Firm may consider necessary to resolve unpaid debts or other obligations

If your available balance is not sufficient to satisfy any debt or obligation, we and the Clearing Firm reserve the right to take action as we see fit, including any of the following:

- Decline to honor the debit, which may result in fees (such as a returned check fee) or other consequences for you.
- If you have a margin account and the unsatisfied debit is for a securities purchase, you authorize us to draw on any available assets in any account you maintain with us as otherwise authorized by law.

If you have a margin account, we or the Clearing Firm may transfer to that account any unresolved debit from other accounts you maintain with us.

Note that at any time, we or the Clearing Firm may reduce your available balance based on obligations that have been incurred but not yet debited.

It is important to understand that we and the Clearing Firm have additional choices for resolving unsatisfied obligations. Like many other securities brokers, we and the Clearing Firm reserve the right to sell, transfer, or otherwise use any assets or other property in which you have an interest — either currently or at any other time — to discharge any obligations you may have to us or the Clearing Firm (including un-matured and contingent obligations), and to do so without further notice or demand. For example, if you have bought securities but not paid for them, we or the Clearing Firm may sell them ourselves and use the proceeds to settle the purchase.

We or the Clearing Firm may also use property to satisfy a margin deficiency or other obligation, whether or not we or the Clearing Firm have made advances in connection with this property. This provision extends to any property held by you or carried for any account of yours, including any credit balances, assets, and contracts, as well as shares of any mutual funds or other investment companies for which we, the Clearing Firm, or an affiliate of either one provides management or administrative services. Although we or the Clearing Firm may use other methods when we determine they may be more appropriate, we or the Clearing Firm reserve the right to use the provisions described in this section at any time, except in cases involving retirement accounts when these provisions would conflict with the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 ("ERISA") or the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, both as amended.

When street name or bearer securities held for you are subject to a partial call or partial redemption by the issuer, the Clearing Firm may or may not receive an allocation of called/redeemed securities by the issuer, transfer agent and/or depository. If the Clearing Firm is allocated a portion of the called/redeemed securities, the Clearing Firm utilizes an impartial lottery allocation system (the "Lottery Process"), in accordance with applicable rules that randomly selects the securities within customer accounts that will be called/redeemed. The Clearing Firm's allocations are not made on a pro rata basis and it is possible for you to receive a full or partial allocation, or no allocation. You have the right to withdraw uncalled fully paid securities at any time prior to the cutoff date and time established by the issuer, transfer agent and/or depository with respect to the partial call, and also to withdraw excess margin securities provided your account is not subject to restriction under Regulation T or such withdrawal will not cause an under margined condition. A more detailed description of the Lottery Process may be accessed by visiting <http://www.mybrokerageinfo.com> and clicking on "Callable Securities Lottery." You may also request a hard copy of the Lottery Process by writing to National Financial Services LLC, P.O. Box 770001, Cincinnati, OH 45277.

In the event funds or securities are deposited to your account due to an error by us or the Clearing Firm, we reserve the right to debit your account for any such assets. If such funds or securities are subsequently removed by you from your account, we reserve the right to take any action necessary, including legal action, to retrieve assets to which you were not entitled.

Use of Funds Held Overnight

As compensation for services provided with respect to accounts, the Clearing Firm receives use of: amounts from the sale of securities prior to settlement; amounts that are deposited in the accounts before investment; and disbursement amounts made by check prior to the check being cleared by the bank on which it was drawn. Any above amounts will first be netted against outstanding account obligations. The use of such amounts may generate earnings (or "float") for the Clearing Firm or instead may be used by the Clearing Firm to offset its other operational obligations. Information concerning the time frames during which the Clearing Firm may have use of such amounts and rates at which float earnings are expected to accrue is provided as follows:

(1) Receipts. Amounts that settle from the sale of securities or that are deposited into an account (by wire, check, ACH (Automated Clearing House) or other means) will generally be invested in the account's core account investment vehicle by close of business on the business day following the Clearing Firm's receipt of such funds. The Clearing Firm gets the use of such amounts from the time it receives funds until the core account purchase settles on the next business day.

Note that amounts disbursed from an account (other than as referenced in Section (2) below) or purchases made in an account will result in a corresponding "cost" to the Clearing Firm. This occurs because the Clearing Firm provides funding for these disbursements or purchases one day prior to the receipt of funds from the account's core account.

These "costs" may reduce or eliminate any benefit that the Clearing Firm derived from the receipts described previously.

(2) Disbursements. The Clearing Firm gets the use of amounts disbursed by check from accounts from the date the check is issued by the Clearing Firm until the check is presented and paid.

(3) Float Earnings. To the extent that such amounts generate float earnings, such earnings will generally be realized by the Clearing Firm at rates approximating the Target Federal Funds Rate.

Transaction Settlement Deadlines

Unless notified to the contrary, you need to pay for all transactions by 2:00 p.m. Eastern Time on the settlement date and deliver all securities in time for us to receive them one business day before the settlement date. We and the Clearing Firm reserve the right to cancel or liquidate, at your risk, any transaction not settled in a timely way.

Precious Metals

Precious metals are not covered by SIPC account protection but are insured by the depository at market value if stored through the Clearing Firm. When trading precious metals, note that because they can experience sudden and rapid price changes, they are risky as investments, and you cannot be guaranteed an advantageous price when you trade them. If you take delivery of precious metals, delivery charges and sales and use taxes will apply.

Interest Charges in Cash Accounts

As an introducing broker/dealer we do not extend credit to customers in connection with the purchase of securities. Any extension of credit for such purposes must be done pursuant to a margin agreement with the Clearing Firm. In the event you create a debit balance in a cash account from failure to make payment in full for securities purchased by settlement date, from failure to timely deliver securities sold, from proceeds of sales paid prior to settlement date or for other charges which may be incurred in your account, we reserve the right to charge you interest on such debits until satisfied by you.

Cash accounts with debit balances may be subject to interest charges of up to 4.00 percentage points above the Broker's Call Money Rate.

For cash accounts carried by NFS the interest on debit balances is computed using the average daily debit balance of the account and the applicable interest rate in effect to determine the amount of interest charged per day. This amount is then multiplied by the number of days a daily debit balance was maintained during the interest period. Interest charged during the interest period is the total of such daily computations.

The rate of interest charged to your account will be changed without notice in accordance with changes in the Broker's Call Rate and in your average debit balance. Your monthly or quarterly statement will show this dollar amount of interest and the interest rate charged to your account.

Restricted Securities

You agree to comply with all applicable laws and regulations concerning trading in restricted securities and securities of issuers of whom you are an affiliate.

Bank Wires and Electronic Fund Transfers ("EFT") Transactions

Bank wire transactions are normally executed the same day, depending on the time received. A wire normally may be for between $10,000 and $999,999,999.99.

EFT transactions are normally executed within three business days of your request. Money deposited via EFT is normally not available for withdrawal for four to six business days. An EFT transfer may be for between $10 and $999,999,999.99. The two accounts involved in an EFT transaction must have at least one owner's name in common (and that name must match exactly). To send and receive EFT transactions, your bank must be a member of the Automated Clearing House ("ACH") system.

For EFT transactions, you hereby grant us limited power of attorney for purposes of redeeming any shares in your accounts (with the right to make any necessary substitutions) and direct us to accept any orders to make payments to an authorized bank account and to fulfill these orders through the redemption of shares in your account. You agree that the above appointments and authorizations will continue until either the account is terminated, we receive written notice of any change, or we have sent 30 day's written notice to your account's address of record indicating that we will cease to act as agents to the above appointments.

Non-Transferable Securities

In the event that any securities in your account become non-transferable, the Clearing Firm may remove them from your account without further notice. Non-transferable securities are those where transfer agent services have not been available for six or more years. A lack of transfer agent services may be due to a number of reasons, including that the issuer of such securities may no longer be in business and may even be insolvent.

Please note the following:

- There are no known markets for these securities.
- We are unable to deliver certificates to you representing these positions.
- These transactions will not appear on Form 1099 or any other tax reporting form.
- The removal of the position will not be reported as a taxable distribution and any reinstatement of the position will not be reported as a contribution.
- If transfer agent services become available sometime in the future, the Clearing Firm will use its best efforts to have the position reinstated in your account.
- Positions removed from your account will appear on your next available account statement following such removal as an "Expired" transaction.

By opening and maintaining an account with us, you consent to our actions as we have described them above, and you waive any claims against us arising out of such actions. You also understand that we do not provide tax advice concerning your account or any securities that may be the subject of removal from or reinstatement into your account and you agree to consult with your own tax advisor concerning any tax implications that may arise as a result of any of these circumstances.

NOTICES AND DISCLOSURES

Brokerage Account Administration

Financial Industry Regulatory Authority (FINRA) Rule 4311 requires that we identify the various account administration functions that we and the Clearing Firm each agree to perform. Below is a summary of this information; for a more complete description, contact us.

As your broker/dealer, we are responsible for:

- Opening, approving and monitoring⁽¹⁾ your brokerage account.
- Transmitting accurate, timely instructions to the Clearing Firm regarding your brokerage account. We reserve the right to refuse any orders and you will not hold us liable for any loss you incur due to our refusal to permit any transactions.
- Determining the suitability of any investment recommendations and advice made by a duly authorized Financial Professional.
- Operating your brokerage account in compliance with applicable laws and regulations.
- If you have a margin account, advising you of margin requirements and ensuring that your account remains in compliance with all applicable federal, industry, and the Clearing Firm margin requirements.

- maintaining proper books and records of all services we perform for you

⁽¹⁾ Note from your broker/dealer: This does not create an implied agreement to continuously monitor your account, but rather, your Financial Professional may, from time to time, voluntarily review the holdings in your account for the purpose of determining whether to provide a recommendation.

At our direction, the Clearing Firm will:

- Execute, clear, and settle transactions that we process through them.
- Send you transaction confirmations and periodic brokerage account statements, if we don't do this ourselves.
- Act as custodian for all funds and securities they receive on your behalf.
- Carry out our instructions regarding the transactions, and the receipt and delivery of securities, on your brokerage account.
- Extend margin credit, if you have applied, and been approved, for margin borrowing.
- Maintain proper books and records of all services they perform in connection with your account.

For more information on the allocation of services, you may speak with your Financial Professional or contact us.

Choice of Marketplace and Routing of Brokerage Account Orders

When securities may be traded in more than one marketplace, the Clearing Firm may use its discretion in selecting the market in which to place your order.

Brokerage orders (including those generated by reinvested dividends) are routed through the Clearing Firm, who in turn sends orders to various exchanges or market centers for execution. In deciding where to send an order, the Clearing Firm looks at a number of factors, such as size of order, trading characteristics of the security, favorable execution prices (including the opportunity for price improvement), access to reliable market data, availability of efficient automated transaction processing, and execution cost. Some market centers may execute orders at prices superior to the publicly quoted market. Although you can give instructions with a written order (though not an order placed through any telephone, electronic, or online trading system) that the order be sent to a particular marketplace, the Clearing Firm's order-routing policies are designed to result in transaction processing that is favorable for you.

Note that we and the Clearing Firm may receive monetary payments or other consideration (such as financial credits or reciprocal business) for directing equity trades to particular broker/dealers or market centers for execution.

Money Market Fund Investments

An investment in a money market fund is neither insured nor guaranteed by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation ("FDIC") or any other U.S. government agency. Although a money market fund seeks to preserve the value of your investment at $1.00 per share, it is possible to lose money by investing in a money market fund. The fund sponsor has no legal obligation to provide financial support to the fund, and you should not expect that the sponsor will provide financial support to the fund at any time.

Fidelity's government and U.S. Treasury money market funds will not impose a fee upon the sale of your shares, nor temporarily suspend your ability to sell shares if the fund's weekly liquid assets fall below 30% of its total assets because of market conditions or other factors.

Customer Identification Program Notice

To help the government fight financial crimes, Federal regulation requires your Broker/Dealer and us to obtain your name, date of birth, address, and a government-issued ID number before opening your account, and to verify the information. In certain circumstances, we may obtain and verify comparable information for any person authorized to make transactions in an account. Also, Federal regulation requires us to obtain and verify the beneficial owners and control persons of legal entity customers. Requiring the disclosure of key individuals who own or control a legal entity helps law enforcement investigate and prosecute crimes. Your account may be restricted or closed if we or your Broker/Dealer cannot obtain and verify this information. We or your Broker/ Dealer will not be responsible for any losses or damages (including, but not limited to, lost opportunities) that may result if your account is restricted or closed.

NFS does not permit bearer-share entity accounts known to NFS on its platform. If it comes to NFS' attention that an entity account has issued or is permitted to issue bearer shares, NFS will restrict the account to permit liquidations only.

The following section applies to all activities in a brokerage or non-brokerage account. When you see reference to the activities of a Clearing Firm, it applies to activities in brokerage accounts.

–PRE-DISPUTE ARBITRATION CLAUSE

This Agreement contains a pre-dispute arbitration clause. Under this clause, which becomes binding on all parties when you sign your account application, you, we, and the Clearing Firm agree as follows:

A. All parties to this Agreement are giving up the right to sue each other in court, including the right to a trial by jury, except as provided by the rules of the arbitration forum in which a claim is filed.

B. Arbitration awards are generally final and binding; a party's ability to have a court reverse or modify an arbitration award is very limited.

C. The ability of the parties to obtain documents, witness statements, and other discovery is generally more limited in arbitration than in court proceedings.

D. The arbitrators do not have to explain the reason(s) for their award, unless, in an eligible case, a joint request for an explained decision has been submitted by all parties to the panel at least 20 days prior to the first scheduled hearing date.

E. The panel of arbitrators will typically include a minority of arbitrators who were or are affiliated with the securities industry.

F. The rules of some arbitration forums may impose time limits for bringing a claim in arbitration. In some cases, a claim that is ineligible for arbitration may be brought in court.

G. The rules of the arbitration forum in which the claim is filed, and any amendments thereto, shall be incorporated into this Agreement.

You agree that all controversies that may arise between you, us, and the Clearing Firm concerning any subject matter, issue or circumstance whatsoever (including, but not limited to, controversies concerning any account, order, or transaction, or the continuation, performance, interpretation, or breach of this or any other agreement between you and us, whether entered into or arising before, on, or after the date this account is opened) shall be determined by arbitration in accordance with the rules then prevailing of the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority (FINRA) or any other United States securities self-regulatory organization or United States securities exchange of which the person, entity, or entities against whom the claim is made is a member, as you may designate. If you designate the rules of a United States self-regulatory organization or United States securities exchange and those rules fail to be applied for any reason, then you shall designate the prevailing rules of any other United States securities self-regulatory organization or United States securities exchange of which the person, entity or entities against whom the claim is made is a member. If you do not notify us in writing of your designation within five (5) days after such failure or after you receive from us a written demand for arbitration, then you authorize us or the Clearing Firm to make such designation on your behalf. The designation of the rules of a United States self-regulatory organization or United States securities exchange is not integral to the underlying agreement to arbitrate. You understand that judgment upon any arbitration award may be entered in any court of competent jurisdiction.

No person shall bring a putative or certified class action to arbitration, nor seek to enforce any pre-dispute arbitration agreement against any person who has initiated in court a putative class action; or who is a member of a putative class action who has not opted out of the class with respect to any claims encompassed by the putative class action until: (i) the class certification is denied; or (ii) the class is decertified; or (iii) the customer is excluded from the class by the court. Such forbearance to enforce an agreement to arbitrate shall not constitute a waiver of any rights under this agreement except to the extent stated herein.
